

Marbles Activity:

Each student in a class of 25 will pick 10 marbles from a jar (without replacement) and count the number of red marbles. There are 50 red marbles and 50 non-red marbles in the jar. Which of the distributions below appear to be the most reasonable/possible? Explain your reasoning.

